

The Annual Payroll Game Changer Conference

Thurs 15 & Friday 16 February 2018

This year's theme: Payroll
at the top table!

It's time Payroll was seen in a leadership role, and this year we explore how to make this happen.

The Annual Payroll Game Changer Conference

What's the conference all about?

In February 2015 we ran the inaugural Payroll Game Changer Conference. People outside of payroll may think all we do is push a magic button, but we wanted to provide a conference for those who want to move to being a business partner with their business, and who want to grow their payroll career and find ways to deliver payroll differently. We had a fantastic response to the first conference!

In 2016 we looked at the changes we are seeing in payroll as a result of the introduction of Workday, smaller companies being bought by large international organisations, the threat of outsourcing still looming and the greater need for compliance.

For 2017 we focused on new ideas on how you create payroll efficiency and ensure you are meeting compliance standards. We also explored some out of the box ideas about how payroll can be delivered differently.

For 2018 we are exploring how Payroll can increase their credibility and be at the top table. We will look at Payroll Career paths, how to expand your skills to add strategic work to your role and how to overcome challenges.

Who should attend?

This isn't a nuts and bolts conference - we are exploring how you can change the game with your payroll function. You should attend if:

- You are looking for different ideas on how to grow your payroll career - not necessarily moving roles, but by expanding or changing what you do or how you do it
- You want new ideas on how to manage payroll more effectively
- You want to grow your payroll leadership skills to be part of the top management team, whether you're in finance or HR
- You want to meet other forward thinking Payroll people to discuss issues and share learnings with!

Which other companies attend?

We've had payroll people from the following businesses attend the Payroll Game Changer Conference:

ANZ | Auckland Council | Auckland Airport
AUT | Bay of Plenty Regional Council
BNZ | Chapman Tripp | Deloitte | Electra
EY | Fletcher Building | Fulton Hogan
Greater Wellington Council | IAG
Instant Finance | Maritime New Zealand |
Sanford | Silver Fern Farms | SKY Network
Tasman District Council | Turners & Growers |
Tatua Dairy Compay
The Electrical Training Company Ltd
Victoria University of Wellington
Yashili New Zealand Dairy Company
And many more!!

Places are limited...
so book today!

Photo's from the 2017 conference:

Lydia Baines, Payroll Manager at Turners & Growers talks about the different audits that her and her team have been through and what to watch out for.

Paul MacKenzie from Platinum Payroll made us all stand for the death of the printed payslip (and had everyone in stitches).

Bruce George from Fletcher Building covered off how to use the principles of Six Sigma to find issues with your processes.

Our panel tackling complex Holidays Act issues included Gillian Service from MinterEllison, Anna Sefuiva from Auckland DHB and Alan Reid, Labour Inspector with MBIE.

The ideas wall captures the key things people are taking away from the conference to use in their roles.

What have previous attendees said?

Those presentations that were sharp and focused were really interesting to listen to and take away knowledge.

Variety of presenters and content kept you interested. Great variety of information. Better than I expected. Very well run.

I liked how I came away feeling valued as a payroll professional. The coaching that was delivered during the two days was great.

Well run, Each presentation was the perfect length of time. Great variety of presenters and information.

Timing was perfect as not too long a day, speakers were great, actually a good size attendance, as too big you lose the atmosphere. Really enjoyed the opportunity to discuss payroll and talk to like minded payroll enthusiasts.

Enjoyed the discussion around curly issues we all face and the debate on where payroll should sit.

I really enjoyed the conference - I took a lot away of great value. I found it very interesting.

Probably one of the better conferences I have attended, thanks :)

The Agenda and our Presenters

While we always have some payroll specialists present, our conferences aren't nuts and bolts: how to do payroll. It's also about how you become a Payroll Leader at the top table. So we also have presenters who will share tools and techniques to help you on that journey! We are pleased to announce that for 2018 you'll hear from:

Glennys Morris, Payroll & HR Services Manager, Auckland University

Glennys currently leads the Payroll Team at the University of Auckland. She was previously a highly effective experienced Team Leader for 7 years at Air New Zealand. She also has experience in restructuring and change management.

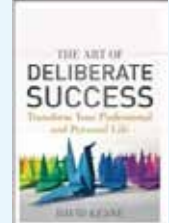

Liz Tibbutt, Head of HR, Eco-Products

Liz has a background in senior HR roles in a variety of industries including NZME, Counties Manukau DHB and HP. She has extensive experience with HR and payroll metrics and data and also curates InsideHR, a site full of articles about HR, Payroll and employment.

Dr David Keane, The Art of Deliberate Success

Dr David Keane has researched leaders around the world to find out what makes them successful. He will share these secrets with you so that you can use the same tools for your own personal and professional success journey.

The first 20 registrations will receive a copy of Dr Keane's book free of charge!

Melissa Russek, Remuneration Lead, Auckland DHB

Melissa has an extensive career in remuneration including roles with Ernst & Young, The Remuneration Network and dsd consulting. She will be discussing remuneration issues and how payroll can add value in this area.

Ian Johnson, CEO, TimeFiler

Ian has almost 20 experience with payroll systems and has seen what works and where issues are caused. He will discuss ideas on how you can leverage your payroll data and processes and add serious value to the business.

Tess von Dadelszen, Associate, Langton HudsonButcher

Tess advises on contentious and non-contentious employment related issues. She has a particular interest in legal issues surrounding the Parental Leave and Employment Protection Act 1987 and will be presenting on recent changes and case law.

John Rooney, Partner, Simpson Grierson

John is a partner in the firm's employment law group. He specialises in employment law and health and safety. SimpsonGrierson have been proactive in researching what changes need to happen with the Holidays Act and John will be presenting on what's coming and how to work with the Act in the meantime.
